THE AMATEUR PACE. TROPHY:

WIN GOLF MATCH.

WOODMERE, N. Y., Sept. 22.—Jack Pirie, of Woodmere, and Bob Mac-Donald, the Chicago professional, defeated Irving Stringer and Gil Nicholis at the Woodmere Golf club yesterday, by 4 up and 3 to play, at 36 holes. Nichols had the heat 18-hole scope of the day, a 72 in the morning.

The original plan had been to have Pirie pair with Mike Brady against Stringer and Wilfrid Reid, of Washington, but Brady and Reid were unable to play.

INDIANS WIN AGAIN.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Entering the ninth inning on the short end of a 3 to 4 score, and facing elimination from the pennant race, Cleveland yesterday staged a rally that netted five runs, scored an 3 to 4 victory, a clean sweep of the feur-game series with the locals and reduced Chicago's lead to four runes.

FRATE HAHN, JOE LEVY'S CRACK BANTAMWEIGHT, WILL be Pal Moore's opponent in an eight-round bout at the New Lyric theater on Friday night, Oct. 17. This announcement has been made by Billy Haack, local boxing promoter, who has been busy since Moore's arrival from overseas after some high-class banty who will be able to give the Memphian plenty of fast action.

Hahn is under the managerial wing of Joe Levy, who has han dled a flock of top-notch boys, and Joe says that Bernie is certainly destined to be the wearer of the bantam crown before he has run his course as a wielder of the padded gloves. Hahn is 24 years old and has been boxing for six or seven years, having met any number of leading boxers since his advent into the realms of fixtiana.

Hahn's headquarters are in Atlanta, where he is now in training in anticipation of his bout with Moore here next month. Moore is also busily engaged in getting in shape, and will be ready when the bell rings to meet the latest bastam sensation. Both boxers have agreed to enter the ring at 118 bounds, although it is doubtful if Moore will tip the scales at more than 115.

OPENING OF NEW OLUB.

When the Moore-Hahn bout is staged it will mark the opening of the Southern Athletic club for the winter season and Elliy Haack, local promoter and matchmaker, is planning to bring some of the leading members of the fistic fraternity to Memphis during the cold season. son.

Hank is convinced that Memphis will support a boxing club which puts on the proper variety of bouts and will stage one fight about every two weeks in which the headliners among the box-

Well, the Reds, of Cincinnati, should ought to win four straights in a row, because they have got the best team. Their outfield is the best, and their pitchers is the best and their infield is got it all over the Cubs, so I can't see about but Cincy. Jackson and Leiboid and Rousch is a faster arm better hitters than Sherwood Magee and Collins and Neale any day. Behind the bat Wingo and Rariden will make Eddie Collins and Groh and them other Cub infielders book like a dog. Twenty Years Ago and Today

Boxers Wore Big Sweaters and Looked Tough But Today They Are Well Dressed and Save Their Money.

(This is the third and final of a series of stories written by Billy Haack for The News Scimitar on sporting conditions today, as compared to those in existence two decades ago. The previous articles have touched upon basebail and swimming. The last deals with moxing.—Editor's Note.)

Take boving 20 years awo—you never considered a man a fighter unless he looked tough, wore a big sweater and a cap, and without a sweater, one look was enough, as you would decide for yourself that he could not fight. He also had to be a pretty good drinker and hang around the saloons. But look at the fighter of today. If you knew he went in a saloon you thought his fighting days were over, and if he came around with a big sweater and a cap, looking tough, you would say: "This fellow is no fighter; he's a bitm."

The best boxers of today are smart, dressy boys, who save their money, have diamonds and autos, neither drink nor smoke, and above all, look after their family. In the old days the boxing fans would not turn out to see a show unless the boxers looked the part. Now it is just the opposite. How times have changed.

Henry Wenzier, Jr., city and state champion, annexed the third annual invitation tournament of the Colonial Country club Sunday, when he joiled Eugene Wood in the finals 7-6. Wood is a former city title holder and also an ex-officer of the army.

Wood shot a fine morning round of $5 against an $4 for Wenzier and was even-steven at the completion of the first 18 holes. In the afternoon Wenzier struck high tide and romped despite the fact that Wood wis still on his game and was playing steady golf. The match came to an end on the 25th green.

A fine gallery followed the players in the afternoon and slipped Wenzier a rousing sendoff at his victory.

Cy Seymour, Once Led League In Batting When He Was With the Reds

NEW YORK, Sept. 22,—James Bentley Seymour, known as "Cy" Seymour when a major league outfielder, died at his home here last night, it was learned today. Seymour, who was 42 years old and had played semiprofessional baseball in recent years, had been ill for some time.

While with the Cincinnati Nationals Seymour led the league in batting in 1905 with 377, and when repurchased by the New York Nationals, where he started his major league career, the purchase price, $12,000, was regarded as the largest baseball cash deal up to that time.

National Commission In Session In Chicago To Deliberate On Approaching Baseball Classic.

BULLETIN.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 22.—Cincinnati wen the toss for the opening game of the world's series at the meeting of the national baseball commission here today. The first game is scheduled for Wednesday, Oct. 1. The first two games will be played in Cincinnati, the next three in the American league city winning the pennant of that league, then two in Cincinnati, if necessary, following by one in the American league city. The place for the ninth game, if necessary, is to be decided by lot. The umpires who will judge the plays in the world's series games are: American League—R. F. Nailin and William J. Evans.

National League—Charles Rigler and Emmett Quigley.

of a coin today at the meeting of the national commission will deckie where the opening game of the world's series will be played between the Cheinnati Reds, winners of the National league pennant, and the Chicago White Sox, the likely winners of the American league pennant. Arrangements at the same time will be made for the games between the Cleveland Americans and the Cincinnati club in the event the White Sox are nosed out by the runner-up. Chicago has not yet clinched the pennant in their league.

The commission was scheduled to meet at noon, and in addition to settling the place and dates of the games, was to thrash out other matters relative to the schedule, tickets, umpires and time of starting the contests.

Oct. I was practically settled upon as the opening date. It was also said that the first two games would be played in the city winning the toss and the next three games would be played in the city of the other contender. The other two, if necessary, would be played where the series started, and if neither club had yet won its fifth game the remaining games would be played in the city.

It was further announced that the ing games would be played in the other city.

It was further announced that the drawing for the tickets for the games here would be started by Presidents Heydler and Johnson. They were to draw the first hundred envelopes.

On account of the war last year many radical changes were made in the arrangements governing the world's series between the Boston Americans and the Chicago Nationals. The National commission made a number of innovations to meet the war-time conditions, but declared at the time this was not to be permanent. One move was to cut the prices to just double the regular prices charged during the season. This year, however, they have voted a return to the old scale, the prices having been announced some time ago.

Last year it was possible to purchase box seats for the baseball classic at $3, white the grandstand reserved seats sold at $1.50. Paylilon seats could be purchased for $1, while bleacher seats were $60 cents. These prices did not include the war tax demanded by the government.
